HayssenSandiacre to Demonstrate New Technologies at Pack Expo 2008

DUNCAN, S.C. — July 30, 2008 — HayssenSandiacre, a Barry-Wehmiller company and a leader in innovative packaging solutions, will demonstrate new machinery models in both vertical and horizontal form/fill/seal packaging systems at Pack Expo 2008, Nov. 9 to 13, at McCormick Place in Chicago. The combination of Hayssen and Sandiacre Rose Forgrove in November 2006 greatly enhanced the line of vertical and horizontal technology for flexible packaging.

A team of professionals from HayssenSandiacre will be available in booths #S-400 and #S-406 throughout the show to discuss all of the company's latest technology and equipment, including:

- Hayssen ULTIMAX 15-inch CM with Ishida Scale: The Ultimate in Sanitation. The first of its kind, HayssenSandiacre's latest continuous motion ULTIMAX features true high-pressure washdown capabilities for the harshest environments. Its sleek design and advanced technology makes this system a must-see at Pack Expo.
- Sandiacre NOVUS 250 with Yamato Frontier Scale: High-speed continuous motion VFFS system couples high production speeds of 200-plus ppm with a quality package to create a winning value proposition.
- Hayssen's Ultima SV with Mateer Burt 1800D Servo Auger: Features servo technology that packages coffee in a flat-bottom bag. The Ultima family offers maximum flexibility and durability with machines designed for years of high-quality packaging.
